

SUPPORT THE TROOPS – BRING THEM HOME NOW!? 6-6-06

That's the Liberal mantra de jour and I find it offensive. I earnestly support the troops alright but I am smart enough to know that bringing them home now has nothing to do with supporting them. It's just a way for Liberals to try to have their cake and eat it too. They think that prefacing their anti-American rhetoric with a positive sound bite will defuse criticism. Wrong! Not from this patriot! I see these stupid signs dotting the countryside and adorning car bumpers (usually Volkswagens) but I have yet to hear a flaming Liberal espouse such nonsense in a venue that would allow rebuttal. Why? Because it is such a stupid thing to say that there is no way it can be defended. It's like saying "Support Your Local Police – Get Them off the Street!" That would be a surefire way to win the war on crime now wouldn't it?

You Liberals aren't fooling anyone. You hate, or "loath", the military. You hate Capitalism, our way of life. You want us to loose the war against terrorism and go back to John Kerry's concept of appeasement where we simply react to the "nuisance" of terrorism after the fact. Fighting it in such a manner, in the courts, as a police action, will result in the loss of more innocent civilians. Better to keep them pinned down on their own soil.

After 9/11 you asked why so many people around the world hated us. You suggested we reach out and try to understand them. You went so far as to advance the International Baccalaureate (new to Albany H.S. in 2005) curriculum to augment the misguided Multicultural theme already in our public schools. What do you think other people around the world are going to think of us when you Liberals can't find anything good in your own country? Maybe you ought to think about the influence you have, the image you project and the reaction you foster when you debase your patriotic countrymen for the world to see.

You flammers ought to take your anti-war message to the Mid-East where it belongs. Really, pile into your electric cars and head to the coast where you can hop a sailboat and watch the whales along the way to Iran. I really want to see the video of all the fun you have protesting the oil drilling, the building of nuclear (spelled in deference to President Bush) reactors, their war mongering and religious zealotry over there. On second thought, maybe that's not such a good idea. They might actually think that you represent the rest of us and if the truth be known that's probably why they attacked us in the first place.
